

IRON IN ARCHAEOLOGY

Bloomery Smelters and Blacksmiths in Europe and Beyond

Prague 2017, 30th May - 1st June

Dear Colleagues,
we should like to invite you to take part in the forthcoming International Conference

IRON IN ARCHAEOLOGY: BLOOMERY SMELTERS AND BLACKSMITHS IN EUROPE AND BEYOND, which will be held in Prague from the 30th of May to the 1st of June, 2017. The conference is organized in honour of Radomír Pleiner in the 50th year of the CPSA.

The aim of the conference is to bring together scholars involved in research on early ironworking and to share the newest results and experiences achieved in this field. Very welcome contributions are those informing about recently excavated bloomeries and smithies, about results of analyses of slags and iron artefacts, about new analytical methods developed, new trends and achieved results in experimental archaeometallurgy of iron etc.
